

Description:

This will be the page about interactions with a cinema site. The page will require a log in for either a customer or an admin (who will have access to all customer accounts and be able to delete them or delete bookings a customer makes). The customer will be introduced to a variety of movies being played at different screen in the cinema and at different times. They will have a filter bar to help them make a booking. Each customer will also have a balance and there will be VIP customers who will be able to watch each movie for half price. Screening seats will have both normal and VIP seats (normal customers pay extra for VIP seats, VIP customers get VIP seats for no additional cost). Customers will also be able to delete their booking and will get refunded only if the booking is deleted at least a day before the screening. Each movie will also have reviews that a customer can post. The available movies to watch in the cinema won't change however the movies available on a certain day will be randomised.
